BATTLE OVER EXTENDING ROOSEVELT'S POWER

Roosevelt May Be Involved In "Dictator" Move

Likely To Be Drawn Into "Financial Dictator" Controversy Now

EMERGENCY POWER IS ASKED FOR PRESIDENT

States Granting Governors Almost Dictatorial Power To Cut Expenses

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt may be drawn into the "financial dictatorship" controversy which has not only split Democratic ranks in Congress, but Republican forces as well. The resentment which followed the proposal of Democratic house leaders to give the new president power limited only by the constitution to slash expenditures and abolish bureaus apparently had doomed this proposal.

New Plan Broached
But a new plan to give the new president far more power than that voted by the senate to reorganize the government and cut expenses will be presented to both senate and house.

With leading members frankly declaring congress cannot combat organized minorities and relieve the tax burden by cutting expenses, the proposal is made to give the president the emergency power for two years.

Under this plan, the president would be authorized to reduce expenditures 10 per cent. It would apply to all except contractual obligations.

PA NEW OBSERVES

One nice thing about these sub-zero spells. They usually do not last more than a few days, and make us appreciate the warmer weather more.

Curiously enough, local streams did not freeze entirely over during the cold snap. When the weather had been as warm as it was preceding the warm spell, it seems to take quite a bit of cold to get down to where it will freeze solid.

Lots of sleds, which have been laid up for more than a month, were gotten out of their secret hiding places today by the school kiddies, and motorists were forced to use a little more caution in driving about the streets of the city.

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. He was born in 1809.

When Young Pa Newc was "footling" it down Highland hill this morning voices in back of him shouted "hike." And Pa Newc didn't hike any too soon, for two sleds whizzed by before Newc had stepped barely an inch from the sidewalk.

One of the Highland cars was stranded in the dark last evening near the Highland U. P. church, so Pa Newc observed.

One of the most slippery places in the town, so to Pa Newc's way of thinking, is the sloping end of the pavement on Lincoln avenue as you leave the sidewalk going up Highland. (Continued On Page Two)

"BUY AMERICAN" MOVEMENT BRINGS SOME ORDERS HERE

"Buy American" is already showing its effect in the American pottery industry, according to Charles W. Reed, Sales Manager for the Shenango Pottery. Orders have been received by a number of the pottery plants, directly traceable to the "Buy American" movement and among these is the Shenango.

Two hotels, one in the east and one in the middle west have placed orders with the Shenango for hotel china ware, and in both cases the orders replace ware that had been imported from foreign countries. The orders are being manufactured now and will be shipped shortly.

"Buy American" means work for Americans," said Mr. Reed.

"Every time a purchase is made of foreign manufactured goods, it means just that much less work for an American. Shoes, cement, pottery, glass and a hundred other commodities are being sent over to America from foreign countries and because of their wage scales and the deflation of the pound, they are able to put their commodities down in New York harbor cheaper than Americans can manufacture them."

"On the other hand American made goods are subjected to severe taxes when they are exported. An article that can be sold to a jobber in Niagara Falls, N. Y., for a dollar must get approximately $1.62 on the Canadian side of the bridge. There is a thirty per cent import duty on it, then a six per cent sales tax, then a three cent excise tax, then a two cent stamp tax. The result is that American made goods are unable to compete with those of the other countries."

Rescue 34 From Schoolhouse In Snowbound Area

Rural Schoolhouse Is Haven For 34 Persons Marooned For Three Days

AUTOS STALLED AT MORRIS, ILL.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—While the Middle West prepared today for a second assault of sub-zero cold from the northwest, highway workers announced the rescue of 34 persons who had been marooned for three days in a rural schoolhouse.

Their motor vehicles stalled in Tuesday's blizzard, the 34 waded through deep drifts to a country schoolhouse near Morris, Ill. One of them was a coal truck driver and had a three-ton load of coal which was used to keep the schoolhouse warm. Another drove a bakery truck, and the refugees rationed out his bread, pies and cakes.

Agreement Near On Wage Rates

Negotiations On Schedules For New Post Office Are Considered

Rates for the building trades that will work upon the new post office were tentatively agreed upon Friday afternoon when John T. Jackson, Jr., Construction Engineer for the Treasury Department met with C. W. Freed, E. M. Sheridan and W. C. Earl, Building Trades representatives of this city. Mr. Jackson has been appointed, temporarily at least, as the government engineer for the new post office and has already started to organize his work.

The rates for the various crafts were given him and he said that in his opinion they were fair and equitable and he thought the A. W. Kutsche Company would find no fault with them.

Mr. Jackson estimated that by the first of March, or not later than the fifteenth, the work of building the new post office would be started.

United States Bureau Of Investigation Checking Up On Kidnaping Threat

(International News Service)

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Elsie Harvey, 26-year-old mother, held with her husband and another youth in connection with the second attempt to extort money from Charles A. Lindbergh, was at liberty under $5,000 bond today. Her husband, Norman Harvey, and Joe Bryant are held in the county jail in default of $25,000 set in each case.

All are charged with using the mails in their extortion plan, and conspiracy. I. M. Stapleton, district federal agent, awaited the arrival of John M. Keith of the United States Bureau of Investigation to begin questioning of the suspects and to obtain their signed confessions.

Charges Denied
Thus far the trio has denied any attempt to extort money from Lindbergh through threats of kidnaping the New Jersey couple's second child, Jon.

The Harveys and Bryant were taken into custody Thursday when Bryant presented a check for $17,000 at a Roanoke bank and received blank paper cut to the size of currency. Taking their package, Bryant met Harvey and both attempted to escape when they recognized a police officer. Harvey was captured as he attempted to enter an auto in which sat his wife and their child.

She told authorities she knew nothing of the plans of her husband and his companion. Bryant claims he found the planted check in a stump near his home. Harvey's connection, according to his claims, is driving Bryant to the bank.

Sniper Wounds DuBois Attorney

L. D. McCall Is Wounded While Driving Car Into Garage

FOUR SHOTS ARE FIRED AT VICTIM

(International News Service)

DUBOIS, Pa., Feb. 11.—Police today sought a phantom sniper who seriously wounded L. D. McCall, prominent Dubois attorney, as McCall was guiding his automobile into his garage here last night.

Four slugs penetrated McCall's body. He was rushed to a hospital where his condition was reported as critical today.

McCall's wife told police she heard four shots ring out as her husband swung the car into the driveway. She ran from the home and attempted to aid her husband.

Unable to drive the car, Mrs. McCall turned the wheel over to her wounded husband. Weak from loss of blood, McCall drove three miles to the hospital.

Police were mystified over the shooting which apparently had been carefully planned.

Telephone wires leading from the house to the main line had been severed, police said, nullifying any attempt to phone for aid.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 11.—See in all the papers today about making Mr. Roosevelt a president, instead of just a man that sends plans up to congress for the fun of having them vetoed.

Now you will hear the wail go up, "We are not ready in this free country for Mussolini."

Say, Mussolini could run this country with his eyes shut. In fact that's the way our congress has been running it.

Mussolini with no money, no natural resources, no nothing, has kept his country going, while us with a surplus of everything under the sun, are mangy with representatives and liberty. But we can't digest either one of 'em.

Yours,

Will Rogers

EDINBORO, Pa., Feb. 11.—Captain John Morris, pioneer Pittsburgh pilot, decried a siege of hard luck today as he viewed his airplane cracked up in a forced landing near here last yesterday.

Engine trouble developed shortly after he took off from Port Erie on a projected flight to Pittsburgh. Morris said. When he attempted to land, the plane nose-dived and crashed, shattering the propeller.

Morris, who was freed recently after being arrested for taking without permission a plane owned by Miss Katherine Edwards, Pittsburgh aviatrix, spent the night at the home of Deputy Austin here.

(International News Service)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 11.—Two women and eight men aboard the Fishing Schooner Saugatuck, feared lost in storm-swept Long Island sound for 41 hours, were safe at home today with one pair of frost-bitten hands the only tangible evidence of distress.

The party, which set out in search of Edward Connolly, of Westport, was found safe on Middle Ground lighthouse by a searching airplane late yesterday.

Police sought two men, occupants of the room in which the blast occurred, who escaped from the flaming hostility by a rear fire escape. The men gave Detroit as their home when registering.

The detonation shattered a portion of the frame structure and awakened sleeping guests. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hadley, hotel managers, could advance no motive for the explosion.

Firemen confined the blaze to one section of the building.

The prisoners pray almost continuously for deliverance. John H. Mills, son of the aged victim, who has been accused of choking the woman to death, had to be chained to his cell, so violent did his ravings become.

Cult members said he had been directed to choke his mother by a "divine command."

When earth's last snow storm is ended and the blizzards are finished and done, when the weather will always be perfect and the days will be a long round of sun, when the weatherman cancels the snow storms, and the frost will be scuttled and through, oh what may I ask will the weather cranks say, oh what will the snow prophets do. They'll probably sit in a corner and talk of the days that are gone, while you and I struggle to root out the weeds and the burrs that are deep in the lawn. # EARLY BOOSTERS FIRST TO GET PLUMS

Democrats Are Parcelling Jobs

Supporters Of Pre-Convention Period To Be Favored By Roosevelt

JAMES M. COX MAY GET POST

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 11.—Final rules regarding Franklin D. Roosevelt's appointments to important public offices will have to await the president-elect's return next week from his yachting trip off the Bahamas.

Outside observers gathered the distinct impression today, however, that those men and women who worked earnestly for the former New York governor's nomination at Chicago would get the first call.

"Wheel horses," of the pre-convention campaign will have primary consideration when the plum tree is shaken after March 4, it was indicated.

Those who hopped aboard the Roosevelt band wagon after he was selected Democratic standard bearer will, in effect, "be forgiven" and shown extreme respect.

Cox May Be Named
One name was added to the group of likely nominees for an important post overnight when James A. Farley, chief spokesman for the new administration in the president-elect's absence, had lunch yesterday with James M. Cox, Ohio and Florida publisher, who was standard bearer for the Democratic party in 1920.

Cox is not a candidate for a post. It was considered quite probable, however, that Mr. Roosevelt would offer him one of the four major ambassadorships—London, Paris, Tokio or Rome.

John F. Curry, Tammany leader, has been here for 48 hours and has seen Farley several times—twice at the race track. So far as can be reported, the wishes of Tammany will be reviewed, but a final check will be withheld by the president-elect's closest lieutenants.

Township Boy Ranks High In State Contest

Wayne N. Walker Of Big Beaver Township Gets Poultry Medal

IS JUNIOR STUDENT AT MT. JACKSON HIGH

Wayne N. Walker of Big Beaver township, a junior in the vocational high school of North Beaver township, has just been awarded a splendid medal from the state of Pennsylvania for his distinguished services in vocational agriculture, according to announcement from H. I. Bartges, supervisor of agriculture at the school.

There were approximately 120 boys entered in the poultry project contest in Pennsylvania and Wayne succeeded in getting 10th place. In doing so he brought to Lawrence county the first such award it has ever had and the first award of any kind the vocational high school at Mt. Jackson has ever produced.

Wayne selected a poultry raising project in his freshman year at the school. He succeeded in raising 91 per cent of 300 chicks. The following year he continued with 148 pullets which he found to be a profitable enterprise.

Wayne put his knowledge to practical use and kept after his goal. He used lights to induce his hens to consume more feed, and consequently more eggs. He practiced culling the loafers. The chickens were fed a wet mash, used mash hoppers and kept the house clean. Fourteen of the loafers or culled were sold. One hundred sixty-two eggs were produced by each hen.

A profit of $50.35 was made by the lad. He had worked 210 hours on the project. The feed bill amounted to $129.09. He had an extra good market for the eggs.

The poultry project was one of thirteen from which the boys could choose. Mr. Bartges explains. There are 129 or 130 students in the vocational school and everyone has been intensely interested in their various jobs. This is the only school of its like in Lawrence county.

The legislation was enacted at the governor's request, by both houses of the legislature.

In the twinkling of an eye, Governor McNutt drove through the Indiana legislature a bill which grants him supreme authority to reorganize or abolish, any executive branch of the state government. The measure grants him autocratic power over more than 5,000 state employees and officials.

Mrs. Birney was made the first president, with Mrs. Hearst a vice president. Mrs. Grover Cleveland, wife of the president of the United States, grew interested in the work, and through her influence ladies of the cabinet became active workers and committee chairmen of the congress.

GOVERNORS CALLED TO THE WHITE HOUSE
MR. ROOSEVELT'S call for a conference of the governors of 48 states of the union to be held at the white house on March 6, for the discussion of unemployment relief, taxes, mortgage foreclosures and the reorganization of local government in the interest of economy, gains importance from the time, place and circumstances of the proposed gathering.

We have had meetings of the governors before, and it must be conceded that they have never amounted to much more than social gatherings. It is true that subjects of public concern were discussed, but nothing ever came of them because there was no definite program developed and few of the conferees were very deeply interested in the problems that were talked about.

Today things are different. We are confronted with a serious state of affairs that calls for prompt and intelligent action. The federal government has its rights and duties, and the state has its responsibilities. But in the last two decades there has been much overlapping and altogether too much encroachment of each on the other. The time has come for co-operation with a view to the general good. The matter of conflicting taxation alone would be justification for this gathering. In the old days there was a rather well understood division. The federal government depended upon the receipts from the internal Revenue Bureau and the duties collected from the importation of foreign goods; the states drew their support chiefly from the corporations and the municipalities taxed real estate.

Since then there has been a free-for-all scramble by federal, state and many municipal governments to tax everything in sight. A number of the states have their income tax laws, regardless of the fact that the federal government is already endeavoring to get as much as it can from the individual from that type of taxes.

There could not be a better time for this meeting of the governors. A large number of them will be in Washington attending the inauguration. It will be an excellent opportunity to come to a clear understanding regarding the part of state and nation in the matter of unemployment relief. If a definite program can be agreed upon, it may end in some public good. No less than 40 legislatures are in session now; and, if the executives of these states can induce the lawmakers to work in harmony, really substantial results might be obtained. But what the people want now is action rather than talk. The time for merely academic discussions has passed.

LINCOLN
It is somehow extraordinary that in all of America's history there has been only one president who stands out with the genuine and simple humanity that characterized Abraham Lincoln. Washington was great as soldier and statesman. Jefferson and Madison were distinguished statesmen. Grant achieved military greatness, but the presidency revealed his weaknesses. Roosevelt was a mighty personality. Wilson was the austere scholar. But Lincoln was human first of all, adding to that quality lofty statesmanship, integrity and leadership.

Detraction which comes inevitably to the great has from time to time gnawed at Lincoln's memory. Yet none of it has diminished his stature. As the years pass such attempts are increasingly futile. Lincoln still stands as a colossal figure, a man with many human weaknesses who faced the necessity of tremendous decisions, faced those decisions squarely and grew constantly stronger as his burdens and those of his country became heavier. On the one hundred and twenty-fourth anniversary of his birth, the memory of him is still glowing and inspiring.

AMERICAN SINGERS
The other day the Metropolitan Opera Company, presenting Gounod's "Romeo and Juliette," employed a cast composed almost entirely of native-born or naturalized American singers. Even the chorus was composed chiefly of Americans.

This was no part of a narrow patriotic move designed to oust foreign singers and use only native Americans. American performers predominated merely because there are now so many American artists available. There have been numerous successful debuts of American singers in recent years. Many of the native artists have had most of their vocal training in this country, too.

There would seem to be little reason for feeling ashamed of American musical achievement any more. Lovely voices are discovered and may be given fine and thorough training here. On the other side of the footlights there is also development. American audiences are becoming more appreciative of the excellent in music.

REVISING RULES AGAIN
Football fans hope that the intercollegiate rules committee will, in its wisdom, see fit to adopt the proposal of the coaches' committee of 20 to change the rule governing play near the sidelines. There have been many silly gridiron rules revisions; this is not one of them.

Under this amendment the ball, when stopped within 10 yards of the sidelines, will be placed by the referee 10 yards from the sideline and put into play there.

Coaches and quarterbacks may have a reason for it but the people in the stands have never been able to discover the strategy in the custom of purposely running the ball out of bounds when it is put into play near the sidelines. A down is lost and no ground gained. It appears to be a very foolish procedure.

Some, no doubt, have attributed to a lack of intelligence this business of running the ball out of bounds to get it put in play nearer the middle of the field. But it now develops that the foul lies with the rules.

Football statisticians estimate that an average of 14 plays per game, gestures of futility, would be salvaged for the amusement of the spectators by this one change in the rules. That alone is enough to recommend it.

While they were taxing checks why didn't they include those of the suits of the boys who follow the horses?

It might have been different had some smart traffic cop waved Old Man Depression to the curb and demanded, "Where do you think you're going?"

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

YOU CAN DO IT!
You say you can't stand it any longer? You have reached the limit of your endurance? You are through and you don't care who knows it? You don't care what anybody says, you can't go a step further? It's the end.

Well, that isn't so, and you know it isn't. You can stand it if you will. You can stand it better, too, if you'll stop thinking of yourself and think of other men—of only a few of those billions of human beings who have gone this way and made many a weary journey of it, but who have come through the dark places at last and lived to see the sun shine on life again.

They struggled, they fought. They sailed the seas. They climbed many a wearisome mountain pass, fought many a foe, suffered ghastly loss, were lonely, were afraid, were desperate, were beaten as you have been beaten. . . . You are not different from them. They were human, too.

And some of them thought they couldn't stand it any longer, either, just as you think. They heard the winds of agony and self-pity howling through the corridors of their own souls and they thought the end had come.

But something happened to them, as it might to you. They found a scrap of courage, a bit of courage, a shred of self-respect, a morsel of defiance and they fought off the blackness and the pessimism and they said: "I WILL NOT BE BEATEN! I am here to fight this thing thru. Some of me is still left, some of me is still strong, and some of me will NOT show the white feather. What others have endured I, too, shall endure because I am a part of Life and Death has no share of me!"

And so you may be sure that among the vast crowd of other people all around you, there are some who are worse off than you and have not surrendered. They have always been poorer, humbler, less healthy, less intelligent, have known few of the advantages you have enjoyed.

But they have Hope, they have Courage, they have Common Sense—and they know that, whatever happens, they can stand it.

Let the wind howl, let the darkness fall around you, let weaker men cringe in the caves of despair—but YOU stand up and defy the Spirit of Death that whispers that you cannot stand it when YOU KNOW YOU CAN.

Once Overs

COURTESY IN BUSINESS
Why allow yourself to become angry so often?

Why become roused over trivial things that come up a dozen times a day?

Why talk in a loud and belligerent way and become so angry when a person is trying to explain an error to you?

You say that an error is an error and that settles it—no excuse. But perhaps it is really not the one who does the damage who is really to blame—it may go further back and have been merely copied from another who was supposed to be responsible enough to prevent errors.

The accused person should be given a chance to offer some reason for the mistakes he has made. If an employer is unjust and will not listen to an employee's reason for doing a certain thing in a certain way, it is humiliating and discouraging.

Most employees are desirous of doing their best. It is too difficult to get a job to be indifferent to how properly the work should be done.

Workers are concerned about keeping their jobs and are trying to keep themselves fit and in better condition to make good in a job. Shirkers have been generally weeded out.

Employers and the bosses should be at least courteous to their help. (Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE GREAT FEAR
There was a little patch of ground Where summer roses might have smiled, But only ugliness was found And stacks of lumber piled.

And there was room for marigold And phlox and flowering cosmos fair, Which people happily beheld, But that little space stayed bare.

There might have been a patch of lawn And hollyhocks towering tall, But the man who lived there gazed upon The weeds and let them sprawl.

He saw bath filth and shame displayed And, all indifferent, passed them by. He would have to work were a garden made His ground to beautify.

And so with some of us, shame we see On the right and the left displayed, But to make this life what it ought to be Means trouble—and we're afraid! (Copyright, 1933, Edgar A. Guest)

Motorist—Boy, am I all right for the zoo?
Bright Lad—As far as I know you are, mister, but I'm not running the zoo.

The latest motor cars, they say, have two horns attached—the first sounds a horn warning and the second a parting sneer.

Flapper to cop at busy intersection: What's the idea, no lights here?
Guardian of the law: I'm the light at this corner, lady.
Her Majesty: Then turn green so I can cross!

"Does your son burn the midnight oil?"
"Yes, and a lot of gasoline along with it."

A family's best collateral can be measured or counted—its character.

"When ye have nothing to do," writes Maggie to the folks back home, "ye might as well do it at once, and then git busy."

There are people who have acquired a reputation for being good listeners when, if the truth were known, they are only too polite to interrupt.

There is such a thing as having too much nerve. We saw an old Ford make a flying tackle at a big, husky car the other day, and while it stopped it, the brash Model T will never be the same again, if it ever was.

Asked if he believed in evolution, the Office Crouch nodded his head with conviction.
"Who could believe otherwise?" he said. "Just look what liquor's evolved into."

"Pa," said Johnnie, "what's a monolog?"
"It's a conversation being carried on by a man and his wife, son, growled his dad."

"What gives you the impression that Jack and Betty are engaged?"
"She has a ring and he's broke."

Rosie—"Aren't you getting Johnnie and Bill confused?"
Mary—"Yes, I get Johnnie confused one night and Bill the next."

Remarked the cheerful idiot: "The man had been shot and the knife was found lying by his side; now who poisoned him?"
"Nobody," replied the cheerful listener, "he probably hung himself."

THE DEMON RUM
In the "old days" a certain figure of the stage once came to the conclusion that the "Demon Rum" was beginning to get the upper hand and almost had him hog-head and he began to believe he should do something about it. His friends had expressed opinions upon the subject in no doubtful terms, so he went into a huddle with friend wife to see if they could not get up a new set of signals.

"When I get nervous, all run down or for any other reason, I just have to have a drink," said the figure.

One day he spoiled the boy, "Hey, Jimmie," he cried. "Come here, what's the matter with you?"
Jimmie took one look and started to run, calling over his shoulder: "Nuttin' doin'! I know ye, if ye have got yer clothes on."

Hate waters everything: friendship waters the deserts of human fear and skepticism. A single generous action makes a man believe in the sanity of the Golden Rule better than reams of essays.

Muscle Shoals Idea Received As Effort To Initiate Action

Increased Employment Suggested As Possibility, While Definite Effects On Industry And Agriculture Are Subject Of Debate

An elaborate system for the utilization of Muscle Shoals, advanced by President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, is made a subject of wide debate, with attempts at accurate appraisal of the several details. Primarily, the country shows interest in the initiation of some form of action in the direction of better conditions. Increased employment is suggested. Some farmers doubt the value of reclamation, although this is balanced against the use of marginal lands for reforestation. Flood control and water power possibilities are critically considered. Suggestions of private ownership are made, as in previous national debates on this subject.

"Perhaps the President-elect aspires to do down in history as the maker of a great start," says the DES MOINES TRIBUNE, stating that the plan "is hailed in various quarters as a start toward long-time 'national economic planning.'" That paper also comments: "Such phases as that of reclaiming fertile land that is now subject to floods certainly need scrutiny. We need no more crop lands, and the theory that city folks will hasten out to the country, and while in the country eat more, so that the addition of more land won't matter, is still just a theory. If enough marginal land can be put out to cultivation not only to counterbalance the reclaimed land but to exceed it, that phase will look better."

"It is an attempt," in the opinion of the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "at systematic planning for the future in the development of the country." The Transcript adds that "even if sober judgment finds that it far transcends the practical, it may serve useful purpose in turning the minds of men to the subject of orderly and scientific provision for the future of the country; and if the present plan, as a whole, is not feasible, it may be found of value in part." The ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS feels that the matter represents "economic rehabilitation on the grand scale," and that "it comes from a mind that imagines a great advance in the nation's development and seeks to transform it into reality through bold planning."

"He will be moving toward recovery," thinks the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL, with the belief that "when Franklin D. Roosevelt, as President, steps in decisively and makes Muscle Shoals power plant a wondrous center of thrilling power, he will be serving a true economy and a true humanitarianism." The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR advises that the project "deserves and will need a comprehensive study," and offers the judgment: "Roosevelt's main propositions are not subject to question. Economically and socially, in at least two major respects, the country is out of balance: (1) It has squandered its resources and overdeveloped its agricultural areas—hundreds of millions of acres of poor farm lands should be reforested, and only the Federal and State governments can or will do this; (2) Industry needs to be decentralized in a way that will take the people away from great congested centers of population and spread them over the land. A third important fact is that at Muscle Shoals, the keypoint of the Tennessee valley, the Government has already a power, nitrate and commercial fertilizer investment of about $150,000,000."

"It is a plan comprehensive in scope and well worth attempting," avers the HOUSTON CHRONICLE, while the SANTA MONICA OUTLOOK holds that "it is well to have the subject definitely settled by an actual test." The SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN adds: "The immediate point on which the project may be pegged is its possible availability in employing labor now suffering from the demoralization of prolonged idleness. If 200,000 men could be absorbed in the constructive work which Mr. Roosevelt believes to be possible in reforestation and reclamation in the Tennessee river watershed, the project is worthy of the most serious consideration." The HAVERHILL GAZETTE calls it "a plan worth trying," while the MERIDIAN (MISS.) STAR welcomes it as offering the means of "turning all the mid-South industrial wheels." The NASHVILLE BANNER looks forward to "one of the most prosperous, interesting and progressive areas in the country."

"It would mean," says the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, "the inauguration of a new era in American history comparable to that which followed the opening of Western lands to homesteading." The ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH points out that as a government enterprise, "it is not an innovation" since "Canada has made an impressive success" of similar projects. The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST states: "Roosevelt Dam, Hoover Dam, Boulder Dam and related developments are no wonder in the West, nor would Muscle Shoals be, if it were as near the Rockies as it is to the Smokies." That paper, however, believes that "it will involve a mighty debate and a tremendous struggle before it is actually accomplished."

Off to Gran Chaco Front

Although there has been no official declaration of war between Paraguay and Bolivia, this scene looks like the real thing. Paraguayan soldiers are shown marching through the streets of Asuncion on the way to embark for Concepcion and the Gran Chaco front. They are reinforcements being rushed to the frontier to counter the offensive of General Hans Kundt, German commander of the Bolivian forces, in an attempt to wrest the disputed Gran Chaco territory from the Paraguayans.

Rise in Car Loadings Of 11,000 In Week Brings Market Effect

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The stock market steadied today after yesterday's reaction, aided by a rally in the tobacco stocks as the announcement of the long-rumored second cigarette price cut brought a covering movement into the group.

With the tobaccos rising from a fraction to more than a point, pressure on the rest of the market lifted and a better tone was displayed.

Further constructive developments were the overnight news of the formation of the Mortgage Aid Corporation and the rise of more than 11,000 cars in the week's loadings report.

The latter brought a rise in the rails, which was cut short by selling in N. Y. Central and the group quickly subsided.

Union Carbide was under pressure and lost about a point, attributed to the 1932 earnings report would show a sharp shrinkage from the previous year.

Davison Chemical dropped to slightly above $1 a share on receiver-ship rumors. National Biscuit was heavy and Intendant Harvester sagged on dividend rumors.

Outside markets were more cheerful. Bonds and cotton were strong while wheat was steady. Sugar futures were buoyant. Foreign exchanges were dull.

Trading in stocks was very quiet due to the holidays and the absence of important traders from Wall Street.

Oil shares strengthened on the hope of cooperation on curtailment to strengthen the price structure. Motors were dull with activity in General Motors subsiding. Coppers were quiet.

Scattered selling depressed U. S. Steel preferred in the later dealings while the common ruled above the previous close. Hope of a regular dividend next week continued to prop American Telephone. Other pivotal stocks held around last night's close.

Ellwood Swamped By Butler High

Blue And White No Match For Fine Butler High Team Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 11.—Using a fast diversified attack and an impregnable defense Butler High passers found no difficulty in soundly trouncing Ellwood High 32-5 at Lincoln gym last night.

The victors were exceptionally accurate last night making field goals from all angles of the floor while the Ellwoods were the exact opposite, finding it hard to locate the hoops.

From the opening whistle it became apparent that Coach Benedict's green and inexperienced team was no match for the well balanced team from Butler. Some marvelous team work was displayed by the victors as they ran up their score. Then demonstrations of basketball knowledge as they shot, passed, and pivoted.

McClung represented a streak of lightning as he darted in and out to make field goals. He was high scorer for the evening with 11 points. Kotryes also credited himself well, accounting for four double deakers. Bolotin and Johnson were the only ones able to obtain field goals for Ellwood.

The locals were held scoreless in the first and final stanzas. The score was 15-0 for Butler at the end of the first quarter, 19-3 at half time, 24-5 in the third quarter, and 32-5 final.

For the remainder of the season Coach "Gandy" Benedict will have to play the rest of the games with only two veterans. He has lost another player. Last night, Bob Johnson, varsity center, turned in his suit when the first half was over. It was stated that Johnson could not take instructions given him during the rest period and could not agree with certain remarks, and therefore turned in his suit.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 11.—Quite an enjoyable time was held by the members of the Friendship Circle class when they were entertained by Mrs. B. D. Turner at her home on Second street last night at a delightful depression party.

All came attired in their home working clothes and were greeted by the hostess at the back door where they were directed by a detour sign. The evening was enjoyed with games, contests, and clever stunts which were in charge of Mrs. J. N. Telling and Mrs. J. G. McDewitt. During the entire evening everything was done backwards. Throughout the evening the ladies were kept on edge. Every place they trod, bells would ring.

Old White Hall Anniversary Is Planned By Church

Seventy Fifth Anniversary To Be Observed On
February 20

The Central Circle of the Central Presbyterian church is planning to become sponsors to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Old White Hall on Monday, February 20, at 7:45 p. m. An interesting program is being planned for the evening and the general public is invited.

This month marks the 75th year since Old White Hall, now known as the Central Presbyterian church of this city, was dedicated and thrown open to the public. Work upon the structure was completed in February, 1858, which according to the record was a depression year, with several local business failures. On account of the shortage of money many of the subscriptions for the building of Old White Hall were made in real estate. However, in fall of 1859 the building had been paid for in full.

The hall was named in honor of James D. White. According to the record, R. W. Cunningham suggested the naming and had called attention to the fact that James D. White had done more for the material growth of New Castle than anyone then living. Mr. White, in addition to many other interests, had built and operated the first iron works in New Castle, and the first by two or more years, in the Shenango or Mahoning valleys.

In addition to R. W. Cunningham, the following leading citizens of the day were active in causing the hall to be erected: William McClellan, Shubel Wilder, Josiah C. White, Joseph S. White, White McMillen, John Emery, S. W. Mitchell, James Moffatt, William Bonnell, Samuel T. Sippy, John Wilson, R. W. Stewart, J. N. Euwer, Henry Pearson, Robert Reynolds, N. White, Isaac Dickson, A. Henderson and R. B. McComb. These are but a few of those interested in the erection of the old hall.

Schaaf Is Still Semi-Conscious

Prize Fighter Knocked Out In
New York Last Night In Serious Shape

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Polyclinic hospital, through Dr. William B. Healy, one of the attending physicians, today "checked" the fact that Ernie Schaaf is a very sick man.

A bulletin, signed by Dr. Healy, was issued at the hospital, at 10 a. m., as follows:

"The patient is in semi-coma and still in a serious condition."

Dr. Healy said the bulletin, to be followed by others later in the day, had been issued after a thorough examination of Schaaf this morning, by himself and other surgeons at the hospital.

There is no trace of a skull fracture, Dr. Healy said, "but unquestionably he is suffering from a concussion." He added:

"This morning is the critical period for the fighter. At times he lapses into absolute unconsciousness and then struggles out to semi-consciousness. There is absolutely no chance of Schaaf feigning such a condition and I'll stake my reputation and that of the hospital on the declaration that Schaaf is a very sick man."

Neither Schaaf's friends or his managerial forces are allowed in his room.

To Seek Action To Have State Aided Institutions Buy American Products

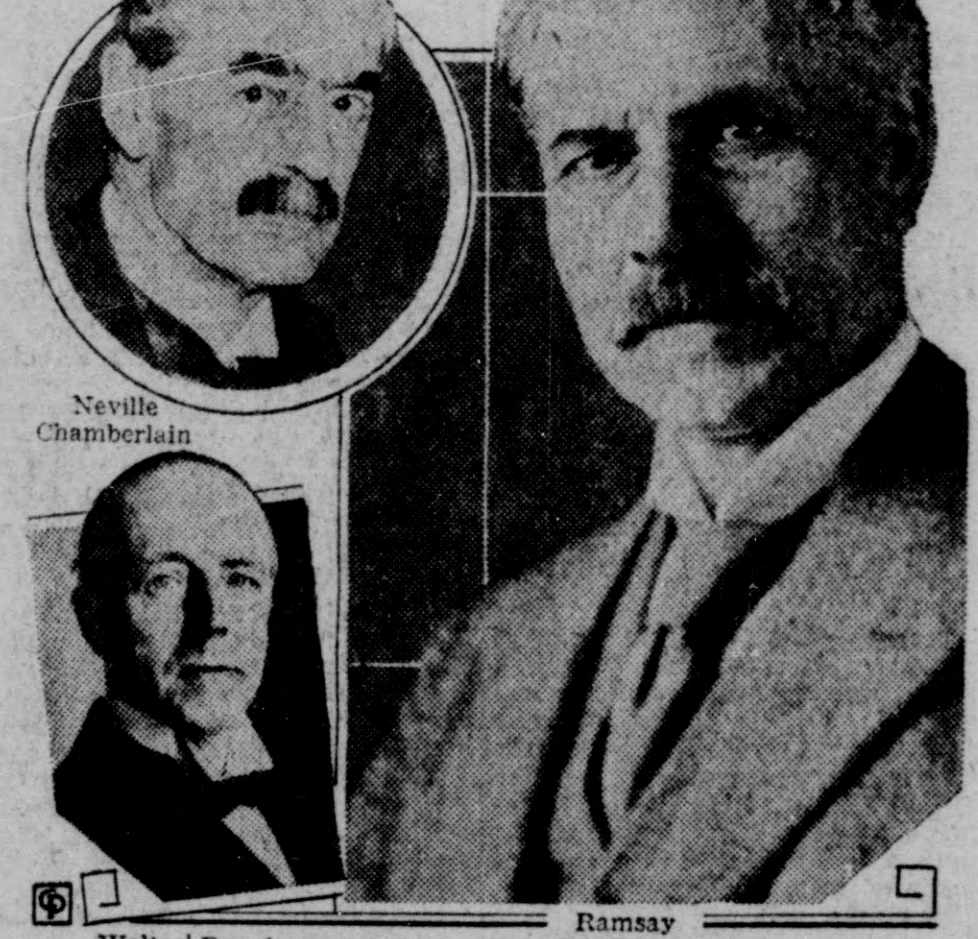

Believing that Pennsylvania institutions that are given state aid should patronize American industries, Hon. William McElwee, Jr., representative in the General Assembly from the Second District of Lawrence County will introduce a resolution Monday night in the House demanding that such institutions discontinue the use of foreign made products.

The matter was called to the attention of Representative McElwee when he was shown that some of the state aided institutions were purchasing such products as china-ware from manufacturers located in other lands. It is his opinion that an institution whether it be a hospital, a college or whatever it is, that is sustained in whole or in part by taxes from Pennsylvanians should certainly not shut out Pennsylvanians and all other American workmen when they spend that tax money for the equipment and supplies necessary to the carrying on of the institution.

Just how the resolution will be worked is not certain, yet as Mr. McElwee has not prepared it, he will do it sometime between now and the time of convening Monday night and will present to the House for its action.

Insofar as is known this will be the first definite step taken by the Pennsylvania Legislature towards furthering the "Buy American" movement which is just now attracting the attention of the entire country.

These three British statesmen are expected to comprise the British delegation that will come to Washington for war debt conversations with President-elect Roosevelt shortly after he takes office. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald plans to head the delegation, bringing with him Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, and Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

Cold Weather Here More Penetrating

Mayor Mayne Makes Interesting Statement Regarding
Real Cold Weather

"How does the recent cold weather here compare with that you experienced in Alaska?" was asked of Mayor Charles B. Mayne, this morning.

"There is no more comparison between cold weather in Alaska and here, than there is between the temperatures of two hot days in summer here," replied the mayor.

The mayor then went on to explain that the persons in the far-away Alaskan country did not suffer near as much from a sixty degrees below zero temperature in Alaska as the average person does here at a few points below zero.

One reason, according to the mayor, is that while there is a great dampness in the atmosphere here, that it is extremely dry up north. The average man or person in the frozen north has less weight of protecting clothing than the average person here. And the strange part of it all, is that in nine cases out of ten in the frozen north, the man is protected by cotton instead of by fur as most commonly thought by persons here.

The garment used in the frozen north is known commonly as the Parka and may be made out of any material but is usually of cotton bed ticking or like material with wolverine fur around the opening for the face. This fur is the only known fur or material that does not become covered with frost, or carry dampness in frozen or other form.

But there is one thing about the Parka. It is thoroughly air tight, often being finished like a quilt.

The man in the far north at sixty degrees or more is not suffering, according to the mayor. In fact he is generally perspiring. In making a hike of eight, ten, or sometimes twelve hours, he is not suffering from the effects of the cold temperature. In fact he perspires and the moisture of his body is eliminated. He does not seek nor does he want any water in that time, not until his destination is reached, except in some unusual occasion. If he should take some snow as a moistener he becomes sick at once.

Due to the elimination of moisture in his system and not replenishing it, his tongue swells and his speech is interfered with and the muscles of his face exposed to the atmosphere become numb or sort of paralyzed but neither of these conditions cause him any distress. Reaching his destination, feeds his dogs and arranges his effects before indulging in anything to eat or drink. Then, if it happens to be in a camp with a group of men, he becomes normal and talks, but is seldom, if ever heard to complain, about the coldness of the weather.

Finish Easter Lambs by Liberal Feeding

Lambs are produced for the Easter market in certain sections of Pennsylvania. To realize the greatest returns and to produce the kind of lamb the market demands, it is necessary to finish these lambs at an early age. Growers have extensively used a grain ration that gives good results in the feeding of these Easter lambs. This ration is composed of 300 pounds of cracked corn, 200 pounds of ground oats and 75 pounds of pea-sized oil meal. After the lambs are two and one-half months old, nothing is gained by grinding the feed.

Careful handling of these early lambs is highly important. Successful growers have found it advisable to clean the refuse grain out of the feeding troughs morning and night. This grain is given to the young lambs. A good legume hay, such as alfalfa or clover, also is made available for the lambs.

Remember that the Easter market will not accept poorly finished lambs.

Strong Early Plants Yield Best Returns

Early vegetable plants are profitable for the home as well as the market gardener. Well grown, healthy plants of the best varieties increase earliness and total yield. The home gardener using such plants of the best varieties increase earliness and total yield. The home gardener using such plants enjoys a longer season of fresh vegetables and lowers the cost of feeding the family.

For February plantings the following varieties are recommended: Golden Acre cabbage, New York No. 12, White Boston and Grand Rapids lettuce, Italian Green Sprouting broccoli and Riverside Sweet Spanish onions. In March sowings may include Golden Plume and Easy Blanching celery, John Baer, Bonny Best, Marglobe and Ponderosa tomatoes and Early Giant, World Beater, California Wonder and Oshkosh peppers.

A compost of well-rotted manure and garden loam soil makes an excellent soil mixture for growing early plants. Coarse sand also may be added. This mixture should be partially dried and run through a quarter-inch mesh screen before it is put in the plant boxes. A convenient size for plant boxes is 12 by 18 inches and two inches deep. Cracks between the bottom boards will allow drainage.

Clean Practices Help to Reduce Chick Loss

Poultrymen who put health first last year in the growing of their pullets suffered less than seven per cent loss of chicks.

Seven hundred and seven co-operators with the agricultural extension service in the state last year reported the growing of 426,542 chicks. The average loss of chicks reported was 10.4 per cent, but poultrymen who used all the sanitary practices recommended by the extension poultry specialists had a loss of 6.94 per cent.

The five recommended practices included quality chicks from vigorous stock, early hatching, clean brooder houses, clean feeders and clean ground. Since this plan of growing chicks was started in the state there has been a consistent decrease in chick losses. In 1929 the average loss among co-operators was 15 per cent, but those who used all the clean practices lost only 10 per cent. In 1930 the average loss was 13.2 per cent and those who used all the sanitary practices lost 8.4 per cent. In 1931 the average loss was slightly over 10 per cent and the loss for those using all the clean practices was less than seven per cent.

Repair and Replace Worn Garden Tools

Money and time will be saved next spring if garden tools and equipment are repaired before the rush of work begins. Rusted spots may be cleaned and oiled, wooden parts repaired and painted, and broken parts replaced. Handles of rakes, hoes and other implements are much better if smoothed with sandpaper and given a good coat of linseed oil.

In addition to the usual hoe, rake, spade and trowel, it will be well to consider a hand wheel hoe with long handles and a low wheel. Scraper attachments, placed on this implement will make weed control an easy task and greatly lessen the hours of labor required for garden cultivation. A file and an oiled rag will be needed to keep the garden tools sharp, bright and clean.

Canning Meat Saves Time, Money, Health

Canning meat when butchering is done is a time, money and health saver, says Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative.

Canning meat saves time because it is preparation in advance for busy seasons and unexpected occasions and rush days. Canning meat saves money because a good supply of meat may be had for the table throughout the entire year from home grown products. All parts of the butchered animal can be utilized effectively and nothing need be wasted or eaten just to keep it from spoiling. Canning meat saves health because at butchering time there is so much good fresh meat on hand that families might be extravagant and eat too much of it, making the diet unbalanced.

Can only meat that is fresh and in perfect condition, Miss Drury recommends. Cooking will not destroy the poison already present in tainted meat.

1. Wipe the meat clean with a damp cloth and cut in pieces for table use.
2. Brown the meat by roasting or frying as best suited to the particular cut or kind of meat being canned.
3. Use one level teaspoon of salt to each pint of meat.

4. Put the meat hot in clean, hot, tested, sterilized jars or cans, being careful not to pack too tightly.
5. Rinse out roaster or frying pan with a little water and add this to jars or cans.
6. Adjust sterilized rubber and lid, wipe all fat from top of jar and rubber with clean cloth, partly seal jars, and seal cans.

7. Process 60 minutes at 15 pounds pressure in the pressure cooker; start counting the time when the pressure registers 15 pounds, or process three hours in the hot water bath, counting the time after the water boils hard and keep it boiling hard the entire time.
8. Remove from cooker or wash boiler, tighten lid, cool and store in cool place. Do not re-tighten lids when cool. Cool cans by putting in cold water. Store in cold place.

All canned meats must be thoroughly heated before serving. Sterilizing the meat by killing the bacteria with heat is called "processing". The safest method of processing is by the steam pressure cooker. The United States Department of Agriculture advocates the use of the pressure cooker for the canning of all non-acid vegetables, meat and poultry.

Canning meat provides a variety of meat throughout the year. Pork, beef, veal, mutton, chicken, rabbit, soup stock and by-products of butchering, such as sausage, heart, liver and tongue, can and should be canned when available.

Hold Three On Theft Charges

Police Report Trio Accused Of Thefts At Carnegie Steel Plant

SUSPECTS TAKEN IN SOUTH SIDE AREA

Three men apprehended this morning by the police are being held for the alleged theft of parts of motors and other machinery at the sintering plant of the Carnegie Steel Company. Damage done and materials taken amount to approximately $700.

The men arrested are William Coleman, David Coleman and Stanley Blashak. A fourth person, a mere youth has not definitely been held in connection with the case. The police stated this afternoon.

Police received a call early this morning from L. O. Nicholson of Hamilton street that he had caught a fellow at Moravia street and Gardner avenue.

Officers found Nicholson guarding David Coleman. Nicholson was doing a little detective work near his garage early this morning when he saw the man he had apprehended, two other men and boys at Lyndal and Hamilton streets, carrying a carton of the A. and P. company containing bread and other food-stuffs.

Nicholson followed them to Moravia and Gardner avenue. Blashak and the boy got away and William Coleman managed to get away to his residence 321 Preston avenue but Nicholson cornered David Coleman and kept him until the police came. The carton of bread and cakes had been hidden in a B. and O. box car. They were recovered and returned to H. J. Jenkins, manager of the A. & P. store at Pollock avenue and Long avenue, who had reported them as stolen.

William Coleman was picked up at his residence on Preston avenue. Blashak and the youth were also picked up later. They answered descriptions of men wanted for the steel mill theft and have been identified as members of the group wanted, police say.

The Steel Corporation representatives will prefer charges against these men.

Six Hundred Have Rehearsal Friday

Handling 600 riotous little kiddies is no small job. But William Martin, who is directing the musical comedy "Patty" knows the trick, and can get the youngsters to perform like pet seals.

He had them rehearsing last evening in the W. C. A. gymnasium. They compose the "Backyard Brigade" a big feature chorus which will be led by Miss Dorothy Jean Wallace.

Young Martin has plenty of patience but he uses no gentle means to handle the 600 bits of humanity. He roars commands, prods them, lectures them, cracks a mythical whip—and every one of the 600 likes it. At the end of last night's rehearsal they were in fine shape for next Thursday night's performance.

New Castle High Defeats New Brighton 28-17

New Castle Stays At Top Of League

Coach P. H. Bridenbaugh Puts Winning Combination On Floor Friday

Kelly, Reiber and Battley Star In Game In Valley, Walker Best For Losers

New Castle High School basketball team stays at the top of Section Three by virtue of a 28 to 17 victory over New Brighton High last night at the Dawes gym in New Brighton. The offensive attack of the Bridenbaughs led by Kelly, Reiber and Battley was too much for the valley quintet. The revamped New Castle lineup looked very good. New Brighton fails to impress on home floor. Beaver Falls and Butler High are the barriers to hurdle if New Castle is to win the Section Three title this year.

New Castle Leads
The game was a see-saw affair for the first few minutes with New Castle taking the lead when big Joe Kelly flipped one through the hoops. Fields of New Brighton came back a few minutes later and made a field goal and E. Mujwit caged a foul that gave New Brighton the lead for the only time of the game. Kelly, Reiber and Teplica caged field goals to give New Castle a 9 to 5 lead at the end of the first quarter. The guarding on the part of both teams was good the first period. There were not many chances to score under the basket. Walker of New Brighton caged a long one.

New Brighton outscored New Castle 6 to 5 in the second period with the first half ending 14 to 11. It looked like a real battle for the first two sessions. New Castle made one field goal the second period with Battley being credited, and Komonic and Reiber caged fouls. Walker and Fields scored field goals for New Brighton.

Very Good Guarding
It was in the third quarter that New Castle assumed a big lead. Battley and Reiber dropped in field goals and Reiber caged two fouls to give New Castle six points, while New Brighton was held to one point a foul by Keppen. The guarding of Teplica, Reiber and Komonic was too much for the Roarkmen. New Brighton couldn't get near the basket and when you can't get under the hoops it's harder to score. The third period ended with New Castle leading 20 to 12.

New Castle came off with eight more points in the fourth and final quarter against five for New Brighton and rode home with a margin of 28 to 17. At one point in the fourth period New Castle led 24 to 12, and again at 28 to 13 with about two minutes left to play and then Walker went on a rampage for New Brighton and flipped a couple of long shots through the hoops.

Fine Form Shooting
In the fourth period Kelly took two more field goals under his six foot three wing and Ridley a sub for Battley and Reiber caged field goals. Miles replaced Kelly near the end of the game.

The five that Bridenbaugh placed on the floor at the start of the game last night has possibilities. They are far from perfection, but with more experience will develop into a winning combination is the consensus of opinion. Kelly looked good at center, and his four field goals helped out nicely, but he needs more seasoning. Komonic and Battley worked good at the forwards, with Reiber and Teplica doing a lot of work at the guard posts. Reiber's foul shooting was sensational, this youngster making five out of five. New Castle made 6 out of 7 for a very fine record.

New Castle Reserves Win
The New Castle High Reserves basketball team under the tutelage of Coach "Gig" Thomas came through with a 18 to 16 victory over the New Brighton Reserves in the opening game on the program. The New Castle Reserves are undefeated this year.

Tommy Jones was the leading scorer and played a fine game, as did Hnat, Ostrosky and Wainio. New Brighton made 16 very interesting and the outcome was in doubt until the final whistle. Dwyer, Keppen and Bingham led the New Brighton attack.

Titans Wallop Allegheny 47-13

Westminster College Basketball Team Takes District Victory Friday

BENNETT AND NEWTON STARS

Westminster College's Titan band of basketball men romped to an easy victory 47 to 13 over Allegheny College basketball team at New Wilmington last night. The Lawthermen started off with a bang and held to a fine lead all during the game. "Gerry" Newton and Bennett were the big guns in the Titan offensive attack with 15 points apiece.

The end of the first half found the Westminster team enjoying a lead of 28 to 8. The Allegheny team could not get near the hoops effectively, with Hunneke and Wilhelm putting up a cast-iron defense. Coach Lawther only used two subs Sillander and Patt and they scored nine points between them. Serene and Massing were the best of the Allegheny lineup with four points apiece.

Westminster won at Meadville earlier in the season by a lopsided score also. Allegheny was only a shell of the former great teams that used to give the Titans a lot of opposition each year. The victory last night was the 12th of the year for the United Presbyterians.

Decide B Loop Title Tonight

First M. E. And Sacred Hearts Play For First Half Crown

EACH TEAM HAS WON ONE GAME

Championship of the first half of the B loop of the Church Basketball league will be determined tonight when Sacred Hearts and First M. E. clash at the Y. M. C. A. First M. E. won the first of a series of games, 28 to 25 after two extra periods had been played. The Sacred Hearts won the second game 15 to 14 thereby deadlocking the series.

Inability to score points from the free throw line played a big role in the First Methodists defeat, Thursday night. They had 10 chances. Of the 10 attempts only four points were scored. Sacred Hearts made seven of their eight throws from the free throw line count for as many points.

Close guarding kept down field goals but of those made First M. E. had the edge. Five double pointers rolled through the hoops while only eight points fell to Sacred Hearts from the field.

Before the feature game tonight the Cosmos will appear against some team, as yet unnamed, in the preliminary.

Bessemer High Trips Union In League 15 To 8

Class A Game At Bessemer Floor Is Rout For Fredericks Quintet

MORRISON AND DEARMONT STARS

Bessemer High School basketball team gained a 15 to 8 decision over Union High last night at the Bessemer High floor. The game was a Class A county league game, and Bessemer led the Unionites in every period. The star performers in the game were Morrison, Boron, DeArment and Benson. Bessemer played a headup game in all quarters and Coach Fredericks was well pleased with the combination that he started.

The Bessemer team took a lead of 6 to 2 in the first period, and at the end of the first half were leading 9 to 5. The game was slow and uninteresting from a scoring standpoint, but there was some mighty fine guarding turned in by White, Schas, Percie and Seltzer.

Bessemer Leads
In the third quarter Bessemer scored four more points to one for Union, making the total 13 to 6 at the end of the third session. Union could not locate the hoops effectively. In the fourth and final period the teams drew up on even terms with both sides scoring two points. The final score was 15 to 8, and is the lowest on the Bessemer High floor this year.

Union High was held to three field goals, and they made but two fouls out of seven attempts. The Bessemer team hung up six field goals and caged three fouls out of nine tries.

It was a typical Union-Bessemer battle with the result close and the guarding airtight. What shots were successful were made from the center of the floor.

Firpo Wins Second Fight From Dillon

Carpentier Wins Decision From Rio In Six Rounds

Having fared rather badly at the fists of Jack Dillon in their 10-round encounter Christmas day, 1928, Henry Firpo succeeded in getting a return bout and on January 1, 1929, demonstrated that he was the better middleweight. The judges split and the referee termed the bout a draw. At the end of the scrap the fans were yelling their winner: "Firpo! Firpo! Firpo!"

Firpo delivered the most blows, inflicted the most damage and forced the fighting and according to a poll of the rounds captured nine of the 10. The sixth was even. He hit the cleaner punches, landed the most damaging blows and forced the going. In the third round Firpo delivered five punches without a return.

Early in the bout Firpo solved Dillon's "cross arm" defense. He just spun Dillon and when Dillon was turned he would be the recipient for a couple of punches. Jack slammed some good blows to the stomach but most of his long range lands skinned over Henry's shoulder or landed on his back.

Both the boys and girls of the Shenango High School basketball teams were "on" last night, taking both games from Wampum. The boys won their game by a score of 32-12, while the girls were equally as effective winning by a 26-9 score. The games were played at Shenango.

Coach Raney gave most of his squad an opportunity to show Friday night, using almost three complete teams. The substitutes were as invincible as the regulars and Wampum found it impossible to break up the net cracker defense of Shenango. Shenango led all the way, having an 11-3 advantage at the half.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11—They've seen fighters do the plunge for distance in faultless form while they stood upon chairs to gibber hoarsely, the eye wild and the tongue a little thickened by the emotion of a great drama. # Emphatically Opposed To Any Diversion Of State Highway Funds

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 11.—Diversion of motor vehicle funds to other State purposes is contrary to good public policy and, no matter how slight the diversion or how worthy the object, will be the signal for a general scramble for the car owner's pocketbook, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, A. A. A., warned today.

"The moment the motor fund is added with any other revenue need, no matter how commendable the object, the way will be opened to draw other State taxes from motorists," said E. Edward Gable, president of the P. M. F. "We must guard against setting a precedent that will break the sound policy of the past and that will let any or every tax demand a seat on the motor fund band wagon."

"To divert or misappropriate motor funds to other than highway uses is to retain the taxes on motorists without the benefits. License fees and gasoline taxes were devised primarily for the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges and are particularly suited for that purpose. To turn them into other channels is a fallacy and any move in the present session of the Legislature will be opposed by organized motorists."

"The gasoline tax for bridge and road building purposes is equitable because it is assessed against those who use the roads, the tax being in proportion to such use, but diverted to other purposes the gasoline levy is inequitable because then it would place a second tax for such purposes on the vehicle owner, who already pays general taxes."

Mr. Gable also called attention to the fact that thousands of jobs are at stake in this motor fund diversion issue. His statement continued:

"The money spent in road construction and maintenance gives jobs to thousands in Pennsylvania, not only in actual road building and repairing, but in the industries that furnish the machines and the materials. Thousands of heads of families in this State have been kept off the charity rolls during the past year by highway employment and will be kept off in the coming months if motor funds are protected from diversion.

"Computing the average yearly value of registered motor vehicles at $185.60, based on an average life of seven years for each vehicle, experts figure that in 1932 motorists paid in taxes 24.1 percent of the value of their cars. They should not, either through higher taxation or through diversion of funds, be called on to bear a greater burden than this. Our legislators should consider well these facts, and not attempt to sidetrack motor funds for other uses, or add further taxes on car owners and drivers."

"If even the slightest diversion of motor funds is permitted the door will be opened wide for other diversions in the future, not only by the State, but also by county and municipal governments when they find themselves faced with the necessity of retrenchment or the discovery of new sources of income. Diversion of motor funds to other uses than primarily intended, that is, for construction and maintenance of roads and bridges, is contrary to good public policy."

Real Hoosier In Y. W. Play

De LACE COLE

Remember Cole and Mehlberg, the comedy that delighted audiences here eight or ten years ago? Mehlberg has been located in other parts but Cole is still here. De LACE COLE, the local Chic Sales, whose antics are always good for a laugh no matter the show. Mr. Cole takes the part of a Hoosier, an old sport whose ideas are twenty years less than his age, in the musical comedy "Pattie" which will be presented for approval on February 16 in the Cathedral. If it is a laugh you want, you'll find Cole supplying it.

Party Of Gay Nineties Will Be Given Here

Standard Bearers Plan To Have Unique Party On Friday,
February 24

A "Gay Nineties" party is being planned by the Standard Bearers of the Mahoning Methodist church. It was decided at a meeting in Mrs. Virginia McClurg's home on West Madison avenue last night to have the party on Friday evening, February 24, in the church basement. The Standard Bearers will be garbed in the mode of dress in the "good old nineties" and will present a program appropriate to the affair.

Myrtle Mae Conn led the devotionals at last night's meeting. Maxine Gillespie led the discussion on the third chapter of the study books "Lady, Fourth Daughter of China."

Dorothy Druschel was admitted as a new member. Genevieve Moss and Maxine Gillespie were associate hostesses with Mrs. McClurg.

The first practice for the party program will be conducted Monday night of the coming week.

Observations In 7th Ward

One dollar gold pieces are not so very unusual, it seems. Every once in a while one pops up at the local bank. Not so long ago a man came in with one he had been keeping as a remembrance. He decided he would rather have a dollar bill.

But did you ever see a gold twenty-five cent piece? Yes, such a coin exists, according to Ashley Hill, at the bank. It is small, about the size of a chin dot. And is not often seen in circulation. One peculiar feature about this coin is that it is not round but has five or six corners.

Resting beside a stack of silver dollars at the local bank is a Columbia Exposition quarter, and odd looking coin.

These past couple days have been the best ones for selling alcohol that local dealers have had in months. Not meaning beverage of course, but anti-freeze for automobile engines. One service station operator states that he has sold a drum of 54 gallons since Sunday.

Hannah Evans Gwilym showed the writer several dresses made for needy school children by the mothers and volunteer workers who meet daily in the Mahoning school annex. The dresses, made from material furnished by the Red Cross, were the last word in neatness. They were dresses any youngster would be proud to wear.

Did you know that pigeons like to eat mortar? They do, and what is more, it is good for them. So explains Tom Turner, who has just about the nicest loft of pigeons in this end of the state. The mortar not only provides "roughage" for the pigeons but furnishes them with salt and lime.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Having no fires scheduled for last night, the boys from number five, eliel is one way of pronouncing Niagara Hose Company ups and has a dinner. A rather swell affair it was with turkey and cranberries and hard rolls. And only a few speeches.

After saving his appetite for the dinner for some two months Assistant Chief Jimmy Thomas nearly missed out. Somebody had a slight blaze up on the North Hill and for a time it looked as though they could wrap Jimmy's plate up. He got in just in time to eat and be called on to make a speech which he refused to do with great eloquence.

Mayor Mayne and Councilman Davies and Genkinger did speak, and all of them spoke of their days in the Volunteers. Genkinger went back to the days of the hand-drawn carts, while the mayor told of some of his experiences in fighting fires in the early nineties.

One of the mayor's customers recently got confused as to where the city line was located. She had been ordered out of town by Huzzoner and later was arrested again. "Didn't I order you out of town?" asked the Mayor. She answered that he had and she had moved.

"Where do you live now?" he continued. "On Mahoning Avenue" was the reply.

Heard considerable discussion last night of the request for information as to what was the oldest building in the city. Martin Gantz school would be among the oldest but probably not the oldest. It was built in 1851.

Oh where I ask are the old time duds, those flannels of garnish red, and where are the ear lugs we used to see and the fur caps topping the head; gone, gone are the days when they were in style the modern guy has no use, for those relics of yore that were only a bore, and always looked like the deuce.

Your friends are a big help in cold weather. Sitting at lunch yesterday, wondering if the thermometer would drop down out of sight again one had handed me a folder on the New Orleans Mardi Gras, which takes place the latter part of this month.

And the words the author of that folder tossed around. Speaks of the carnival spirit, Lake Ponchartrain, Gulfport, Biloxi, Pass Christian, sunshine, sunshine and more sunshine. The mugg.

THUMBPRINTS

More farm graduates for this paragraph today. John McMillin traded his plow and harrow experience for a druggist's education. Chae Dugan did his stretch on the farm. Both of them are from the Seventh ward. Earl Wimer carried the News when he wasn't big enough to properly lift the bundle of paper. . . . and Peck Lee spent his boyhood days in athletics. . . . and look what they did for him. . . .

Some day we'd like to build a house overlooking the sea. So we could have an ash dumping arrangement under the furnace. Just pull a handle and the ashes dropped down a cliff or something. Or a chain bucket effect that went out the cellar window would be all right. This thing of carrying ashes out in a bushel basket has its disadvantages.

Gas Company Force Celebrates Victory

New Castle Employees Dine As
Two-Year Safety Record
Is Announced

One of the most successful and enjoyable dinner parties was given Friday evening, February 10, by the employees and their families of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

The event was in honor of their securing for the second consecutive year, the much coveted Gold Star calendar. This Gold Star calendar means that for two years, not one accident was reported by the local office. Considering the nature of their work and the large number of employees maintained by the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, they are very proud of their achievement.

After dinner, interesting speeches on safety were given by S. C. Ross, district manager, A. M. Elder, foreman; D. W. Brown, local agent and their special guests, W. H. Adams, special agent from Pittsburgh; W. G. Williams, his assistant; Wesley Davy, master mechanic Lehigh Portland Cement company; and J. T. Campbell, former local agent. Letters of congratulations on the record obtained by the local office from G. W. Ratcliffe, president and E. J. Egan, general superintendent, were presented and read by Mr. Adams. Wesley Davy presided in his usual amusing and original manner as toastmaster of the evening.

There were one hundred in attendance and much credit is due the committee in charge, composed of A. M. Elder, H. W. Jefferies and P. M. Keelen.
